

Barrette Clip

Most of my barrette clips used in my copper creations are a standard 3 inch size clip. It will generally accommodate all of thinner or fine hair and with thicker hair you can wear it office chic with part of the hair pulled back with it or over a ponytail holder where you attach it to just part of the hair. Please note the size, barrette clips come in many sizes. The 3 inch clip is a good general size that will work for mostly everybody, you just need to wear it the way that works for your hair.

Tension bar (middle part) can be pulled out - the ends look like a fork. I don't recommend it though since it is part of the spring tension of the barrette. Some people do it to fit more hair in.

Clasp is closed by pressing the arm down on the teeth and opened when the two metal pieces at either side are pressed together.
